

Benefits of Corporate Membership in The Canadian Society for Civil Engineering

CSCE offers three levels of corporate membership:

- Affiliate membership - $1,500 per year;
- Partner membership - $6,000 per year, and
- Major Partner membership - $16,000 per year.

The benefit of corporate membership increases with each level of commitment - as does the benefit per dollar of membership dues paid. All corporate members of CSCE receive a benefit package with a very attractive commercial value.

Partners and Major Partners can select from a menu of additional benefits to create their own custom package of benefits - to suit their annual plans and priorities. CSCE is open to discussing any benefit that may be of interest to the Partner or Major Partner member. The objective of this flexibility is, to the full extent possible, to maximize the benefit of corporate membership in CSCE.

CSCE also seeks to assist corporate members with project or program initiatives of mutual interest. Potential joint initiatives can be discussed at any time with the Executive Director. Examples of projects that CSCE has developed and managed for corporate members include: corporate awards, design and paper competitions, technology distribution strategies and government lobbying initiatives.

Following is a summary of the basic and custom benefits of CSCE corporate membership:

Basic benefits of corporate membership:
